

Riparian Restoration

A future planned project is to restore the natural flow of the stream by removing two small outlet works that provide barriers to fish passage. The design of the outlet works as shown below will be removed.

One of the shallow ponds created by dams and vertical culvert outlets.